Tigers Make Final Appearance Here Today: Yankee Rowers Easily Win Preliminary Tests

ACOSTA SHOWS CLASS IN FLINGING 3-1 WIN

BY DENMAN THOMPSON.

I UGH JENNINGS and his colorful cohorts will make their final appearance of the season here this afternoon, when, weather permitting, they will seek revenge for the 3-1 reverse meted out to them yesterday by the Nationals. Unless Hub Leonard is assigned, Yancey Wyatt Ayers probably will be called on to turn the trick for the Tigers, and should one or the other fail either Harry Courtney or George Erickson will attain the distinction of copping the contest that will mean the first series won by the Griffmen in many a week. The usual half holiday assemblage of patrons will be enhanced by a large delegation from the newly organized Arlington County Chamber of Commerce, members of the organization having been invited to attend as guests of the man-

To Jose Acosta goes a large share of the credit for the vanquishment of the Bengals yesterday. The half-pint Cuban turned in a full-quart measure of performance. He was shaken down for a total of eleven hits and was accorded support far from faultless, yet brilliant at times. So well did he meet the test in the pinches that only one Jungaleer was able to complete the circuit of sacks. This was done in the fifth inning, when Young scratched a hit through Judge, took third on Bush's single and holding the champions to a scoreless tallied on a double by C. 13. tallied on a double by Cobb. Howard Ehmke, usually the toughest kind of an opponent for the Griffs, was muleted for a counter in the second through the medium of a double by Harris and a single by Shanks, both hearty clouts. The tall Tiger contributed to his own downfall in the following frame, when the Nationals registered the pair of markers which gave them the verdict. Having walked in the opener without receiving any encouragement from his mates, Judge changed his tactics and planted a single to right. Milan's bunt was grabbed by Ehmke, who heaved it past Bush at second, Judge trekking to third and Zeb making the middle station. Judge scored while Bush was effecting the retirement of Rice at first on a close play, and Roth's long fly to Cobb cashed Milan. Thereafter the Griffs threatened only once, when Milan reached second on his scratch hit and Pinelli's overthrow in the fifth.
